Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Alumni Review, Vol. 10: The University of North Carolina The New Year Thursday, October 6, begins the University s new year. In spite of the fact that it is the 128th, there is something new about it, something untried, unusual, that separates it from all the others that have gone before and that will follow after. In his opening remarks to the faculty, President Chase emphasized wherein the difference between the new year and the last lay: namely, that whereas last year the University looked to North Carolina to come to its support and strengthen its hands for doing a great work, this year the State looks to the University, its trustees, its president, and its faculty, collectively and individually, to utilize to the limit the increased resources made available. It is, distinctly, a new year of challenge, of opportunity, a year in which each member of the University has the chance to make his work distinctive, a year in which to do the job is to achieve a double success for the University and the State. Think in the Terms of the University In enlarging upon this theme President Chase urged the faculty to approach its work not only with an unusual determination to make it highly distinctive, but to think of it in the terms of the University as a whole and of the service which the University should render North Carolina - advice that is eminently sound and if followed will result in a more perfect functioning of the institution in the civilization which it was established to serve. Opening of the University Delayed Owing to an unprecedented drought and consequent...
