Pasinetti (born September 12, 1930) is an Italian economist of the Post-Keynesians school. Pasinetti is considered the heir of the 'Cambridge Keynesians' and a student of Piero Sraffa and Richard Kahn. Along with them, as well as Joan Robinson, he was one of the prominent members on the 'Cambridge, UK' side of the Cambridge capital controversy. His contributions to economics include developing the analytical foundations of Neo-Ricardian economics, including the theory of value and distribution, as well as work in the line of Kaldorian theory of growth and income distribution. He has also developed the theory of structural change and economic growth, structural economic dynamics and uneven sectoral development. Luigi Lodovico Pasinetti was born on September...
